For over 10 years, Mitchell has served clients across a variety of industries to meet their tax needs, while helping them maintain their financial integrity and realize their long-term goals.

Mitchell focuses on improving his clients' bottom line by leveraging his expertise to identify valuable tax-saving opportunities, whether it may be through relevant tax credits and incentives, managing tax depreciation, applying accounting method changes and more. To better serve and understand his client's accounting needs, he also earned his certification as a QuickBooks ProAdvisor.

His client-centric approach to advising clients on their goals and growth plans positions him to deliver customized tax solutions to ensure their business needs are met. Having been born and raised in West Michigan, Mitchell enjoys working with small family-owned businesses and finds fulfillment in personally connecting with local business owners to understand their unique financial situations.
